

Miss. Co. ASC Views Diversified Farming Lone Insurance of Future

BY E. J. MAYES
State Editor
CHARLESTON — "THE FUTURE OF Mississippi County's agricultural establishment definitely depends on a fast move toward diversification of crops," members of the Mississippi County Agriculture Stabilization Committee said Monday.

Meeting with Mississippi County ASC manager George Roberts, to discuss an apparent root blight that is showing up on some cotton acreages throughout the county, the three men group of expert agriculturists, thoroughly discussed the project and hopes and perils of farming within county confines.

"Cotton, as a lone crop, is definitely on the way out, throughout the country," Leondas Allen, chairman, pointed out. "Today's farm requirement calls for the working of at least 350 acres of land, if a farmer is to realize any profits, member W. H. Thompson, of Charleston, points out. "What with the need for two tractors, with various equipment for fertilizing, planting and working the cotton crop, plus the cost of picking, spraying, fertilizer and a near non-existent farm labor supply, a beginning farmer must have an initial investment of around $50 - $65,000 to begin operations."

MANY "LOSS THREATS"
"Then there is the ever present threat of loss, accruing from overseas competition, which allows the import of cotton products, the cotton grown by cheap labor and the milling and making done by equally cheap labor, that hangs as an ever threatening sword over a cotton farmer's head," Mack McClanahan, member from Bertrand, observed. The ASC committeemen validated their statements with a comparison of what the farmers, cotton and presently diversified operators, face at the present time.

Let's look at the cotton facet first. "We have been hoping for a good cotton crop for the past three years, but we haven't been able to realize such a goal," Manager Roberts pointed out, adding "this year looks like a good one and the farmer may be able to show from a bale and a half to a bale and three-fourths an acre, on 1-1-16 in middling, with a cropage of some 25,000 acres having been planted."

20.3 LOAN VALUE
"However, the loan value per pound, at the present time is only 20.3 cents and should we get our average of one and one-fourth inch staple a farmer can expect to gross only around $165 maximum a bale at around 28.6 per pound. This includes a 14.3 crop support payment plus some $25 a bale on cotton seed and around $125 per 500 pound cotton bale for the cotton itself. But, then there are expenses to be figured before you earn a net and it will be small, compared to what farmers, in other areas are getting from cucumbers, cabbage, potatoes, rice, etc.," Roberts pointed out.

Asked whether or not there was a possibility that Bootheel and Mississippi County farmers especially, would turn to commercial catfish growing the committeemen all agreed that "this is one fact we must explore since we know that a catfish can be grown for 23 cents a pound and sold for up to 50 cents a pound, thus assuring a far better profit than that realized from corn, wheat, soybeans or cotton. "We know that other Delta land farmers are making big money on catfish growing and it may be that we will turn to this growth," chairman Allen said.

Thompson pointed out that "to do this we will have to ask that Mississippi County be included in the ASC setup whereby Federal aid of from 13 to 19 cents a cu. yd. of dirt removal is paid for by the ASC in the digging of necessary ponds. We can get this aid and it appears that we may ask for it in the future the chairman, who resides at East Prairie said.

A check of county records show that the support prices on soybeans, wheat and corn is "off at least one cent, due partially to some change in freight rates." Soybeans, also facing export and import troubles, due to the fact that Russia, Japan, Malaysia and other Eastern countries are offering sunflower seeds at lower prices than our soybeans, are expected to be average 27-30 bushels per acre with a big support drop from $2.55 in 1968 to a present backup price allowance of only $2.25. A varying market also causes a constant fear in the price structure which has been hovering around $1.10-$1.30 a bushel. Some 10,000 acres are expected to be reported.

Corn, with a $1.12 support price, down one cent from 1968, is expected to show a 90 bushel per acre yield with a "guess of some 65,000 acres planted." The guessing comes from the fact that some farmers have "gone wild" in corn plantings this year, hoping to recoup losses of past years and we can't, at this time, exactly determine the total acreage. A price of from $1.00 to $1.20 a bushel is expected. Wheat, with an expected 25-30 bushel an acre yield, is expected to sell around $1.15 per bushel, and shows a $1.35 price support for 1969 - down a cent from a year ago.

1,000 ACRES SWEET
Some 1,000 acres of sweet corn, 46 acres of cabbage and scattered plantings of sugar beets and an undetermined cropage of peppers round out the faintly extra diversification, now recorded in the county, along with an estimated 20 acres in strawberries the group figured. The ASC members hope that an experiment, now being carried out by the Bootheel Economic Development Council in the growing of cabbage, green beans, peas, pickling cucumbers and carrots, could "well determine future diversification."

These tests are being run for companies that include Heinz, Gerber, Del Monte, Bush, Campbell Soup, Stokely Van Camp and Oconomowoc Co. frozen food divisions and could result in the location of cold storage setups throughout a six county area, including Mississippi, New Madrid.

Dexter Voters Determine Issues Today
DEXTER - Dexter voters are deciding the fate of two issues today in a special city election.

A light vote is expected. The polls will remain open until 7 p.m., with Ward One voters going to the City Administration Building, Ward Two voters casting their ballots in the Township Office, and Ward Three voters voting in the City Building on Clements Street.

Two issues will be decided today. The main issue is concerning the office of police chief in Dexter. A "yes" vote indicates approval of a plan to make the top law enforcement job appointive, with the city council exercising the appointment on a regular basis.

A "no" vote indicates the voter wants to keep the present system, where the city marshal is elected by the voters. Proponents of the appointive plan point out that by the city council picking the chief, the office can always be filled by the best qualified man. They also point out that the citizen actually has more control over the chief, through the city council.

Opponents of the plan state that the present system is more democratic, and the people should pick the top law enforcement official for the city. The second issue voted upon concerns annexation of land in the McCormick Addition.

The issue was approved once before by the voters, but was done incorrectly. The new vote expense is being born by the property owners in the affected addition.

Racial Discrimination Hearing Set for Urban

A public hearing on 4,1967 complaints of racial discrimination filed with the Missouri Human Rights Commission in October, 1967 has been scheduled for June 27 at the Scott County Courthouse in Benton.

The complaints were filed by two Negro residents of Sikeston alleging that Dr. Dewey E. Urban, Sikeston dentist, refused to treat them because of their race, in violation of the Missouri Public Accommodations Act, Richard Chamier, chairman of the commission said today.

Miss Mildred Butler and Willie Dixon, president of the Sikeston chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said they were turned away from Urban's office on separate occasions on Sept. 26 and Oct.

Robert A. Dempster, attorney for Dr. Urban, argues that professional people such as dentists are not covered by the Public Accommodations law, Chamier reported today.

The scheduled hearing follows failure of conciliation efforts. Dick Risk, executive director of the MHRC in Jefferson City, reported today that conciliation was attempted by letters between Urban's attorney and the attorney for the human rights commission.

A hearing panel of three commissioners of the Missouri Commission on Human Rights will hear the testimony. Panel members are: Richard J. Chamier, a Moberly lawyer who will serve as president of the hearing board. Dr. Reba S. See Number 1, Page 10

Charge Dropped Because Of Reluctant Witness

A complaining witness' refusal to testify resulted in dismissal of an incest charge against William Paxton, 256 William, according to Scott County Prosecuting Attorney Tom Gilmore.

The charge was dismissed this morning by Magistrate M. E. Montgomery when Gilmore said the complainant has refused to testify in court about the matter because "she may incriminate herself and we can't force her to testify."

Paxton was feloniously charged with engaging in "an act of sexual intercourse" with a relative.

In other court action this morning, Judge Montgomery fined two youths $50 for having illegal possession of intoxicants. Those fined were John Krueger, St. Louis, and Daniel Bierschwal, Cape Girardeau.

Judge Montgomery told Krueger the court and law officers are interested in "saving boys from themselves, especially those who can't save themselves from beer."

The judge told Bierschwal the country "needs good citizens especially in this day and age." Twenty - five dollars of Krueger's fine was stayed upon payment of $25 and costs. Bierschwal's fine was suspended when Assistant Scott County Prosecuting Attorney Jim Moore III told the court that his fine would be paid by the defendant's mother. Judge Montgomery, granting mercy regarding the fine, suspended the $50, but imposed a 90-day suspended jail sentence pending good behavior for one year.

Persons fined for speeding were Albert Freeman, 305 Benton, $20; Betty Lou DeCour, Dexter, $40; T. E. Ellison, 1920 Ables Road, $40; Loren Howell, 125 Fourth, $10; Robert Kellogg, route three, Sikeston, $16; Jerry McKay, Steele, $16; Vostel G. Raspberry, 127 North Handy, $10; Kenneth Seiler, 403 Carroll, $10; Paul Neil, New Madrid, $18, and Revel Pinrod, Cauthersville, $12.

Daniel Sugg, 113 Fourth, was fined $25 for careless driving. Clive Bridger, 320 Benton, was fined $5 for improper vehicle registration. M. C. Elam, 211 Edmundson, was fined $10 on the same charge.

Warrants were issued for Bobby L. Vanlandingham, 123 South Prairie, B. W. Archie, route two, Sikeston, and Richard Riley, Blodgett, all of whom failed to appear to have a driver's license; Vanlandingham, overweight truck and no driver's license, and Riley is charged with careless driving.

Hearnes' Hopes Dim For His Tax Program

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes held out little hope today for the success of his stalemated tax program in the Legislature.

He said it would be up to the House to decide what to do with an income tax bill chopped up by the Senate—whether to send it back to the Senate or try for a compromise in a Senate-House conference committee.

He reiterated his belief that if a proposed increase in the individual income tax is delayed until Jan. 1, 1971, as has been suggested, it would not provide enough money for the 1970-71 fiscal year of state operations.

"There's just no way," he told his news conference, "no matter what figures they bring out."

If the tax bill is passed in its present form with only a corporate income tax increase, the governor doubted whether it would do any good to call a special session for another try unless he could gain assurances from Senate leaders that there was a chance for success. Otherwise, he said, it would just be a waste of a quarter of a million dollars.

He added that he was "awfully pessimistic" about trying to pass such a tax bill in the election year special session next January.

Hearnes was asked about the overall record of the Legislature. "I certainly don't believe they can do enough in the next two or three weeks to make it a great session," he said. "There are too many unfinished things."

No matter how the appropriation bills are revised, he said cuts already made will force the immediate termination of 60 to 80 jobs in the Department of Agriculture.

He added that he thought an estimate of $11 million to $12 million for capital improvements, as suggested by Sen. T. D. McNeal, D-St. Louis, the Ways and Means Chairman, is completely unrealistic.

Nixon Hopes for Peace Signal

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon, heading home from the Midway summit conference, hopes his decision to begin withdrawing U.S. troops from South Vietnam will be read by Communist peace negotiators as a significant signal.

The President left nearby El Toro Marine Air Station at 8:40 a.m. today on a flight to Washington after spending the night at his summer home here.

Nixon will get a formal Washington welcome from Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and other dignitaries and will deliver "general remarks."

His comments will be broadcast live by some networks. The Cabinet and some members of Congress from both parties will participate in the welcome, with Nixon accorded full military honors.

In early evening, Republican and Democratic leaders of Congress meet with Nixon in the White House to get a first-hand report on his Midway meeting Sunday with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam.

White House sources, who declined to be identified by name, said Nixon and his aides believed the Midway sessions were successful and that administration objectives were achieved.

They said Nixon was hopeful that his decision to withdraw 25,000 U.S. troops from South Vietnam by the end of August would convey a significant message to the other side.

The bulk of the 25,000 will be combat troops, the said, and underscore the intended signal. While Nixon and Thieu indicated more troops will be pulled out later, the White House said there is no numerical target for the year.

Initial reaction to the troop withdrawal from North Vietnam and the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong, was to denounce it as mere propaganda.

White House sources said the initial negative reaction was predictable. The White House reported that a tentative decision to begin the withdrawals was made about six weeks ago, but insisted that a final decision on the details was not reached until the two presidents met at Midway.

The Midway conference was pictured by the American sources as one of a series of recent major turning points in the Washington-Saigon approach to the Paris peace talks. At the end of March, they noted, Thieu offered to enter into unconditional negotiations with representatives of the National Liberation Front. Then came Nixon's eight-point peace plan of May 14, followed by the Midway agreement to begin gradually replacing U.S. forces with newly trained and equipped South Vietnamese units.

While the sources said they did not want to speculate, they hinted strongly that Thieu soon can be expected to spell out in greater detail his suggestions for the political evolution of South Vietnam.

Senate Quickly Confirms Burger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, moving with polished efficiency against a tiny, ineffectual group of dissenters, has overwhelmingly confirmed Warren E. Burger to be the nation's 15th chief justice.

After the few vocal critics failed to win a delay Monday, the Senate by a 74-3 vote put its stamp of approval on the 61-year-old Burger, nominated by President Nixon to succeed Earl Warren, who retires later this month.

The dissenters claimed consideration of the nomination should have been prolonged in order to hold a more careful and extensive look into the appointment, particularly in view of the Abe Fortas affair.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., asked at one point during the rambling three-hour debate, "Why vote today?" When Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said there had been nearly no opposition to the appointment, Fulbright retorted: "There wasn't any opposition to Fortas, either."

The Arkansas senator said he knew of no reason to oppose Burger, a 14-year veteran of the federal Court of Appeals, but he thought the Fortas incident demanded a close look at any new Supreme Court appointment.

Fortas quit the court last month following disclosures that he had agreed to accept $20,000 a year from Louis E. Wolfson, a Florida industrialist now in jail.

Fortas' 1965 nomination to the court went through the Senate in a fashion similar to the dispatch of the Burger appointment, although his selection last year to be chief justice fell short in a flap over his financial dealings, among other things.

The Burger success leaves Nixon with another court position to fill—the seat left vacant by Fortas' resignation. The President has indicated he will move quickly to bring the high court to full strength.

Most of the appointment supporters pointed to Burger as a tough man on law violators who won't go along with the activist and social-liberal nature of the court under Warren.

Opponents of the administration's Safeguard program, led by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., have said a classified Pentagon chart shows the anti-missile system would only give a few months' extra insurance against a knockout attack by the Soviets on U.S. missile bases. Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., a supporter of Safeguard, however has said the chart "supports" the president's plans.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS! FLY OLD GLORY!

Fly that Flag on June 14! That is the day the Congress quietly passed a law, in 1777, creating Old Glory.

Fly it, knowing it stands for 13 states which gambled everything on some wild ideas about Freedom and became 50 states stretching from W. Lubeck, Maine to Kamahou, Hawaii - nearly a third of the way around the world!

Fly that Flag, remembering that this great and glorious symbol whips in the breezes of these lands because the people in them wanted it that way.

Fly Old Glory and be proud of what this land has become, the refuge of the downtrodden, the success story of all time, the mint of Liberty -- all because the people who dreamed up that Flag carried a bigger dream in their hearts, Freedom for mankind.

If you want to puzzle a gradeschooler in this age, ask him what an inkwell is. ***

THE NEW COURT

As expected President Nixon has appointed a chief justice of the U. S. who is a staunch advocate of law and order. Judge Warren Earl Burger is on record as being opposed to the theory of protecting the guilty at the expense of the innocent. It is a bit early to attempt to label the new supreme court, but we anticipate a difference in the new "Warren Court".

The highly-respected Washington Star published an excerpt of a 1957 dissent by Judge Burger. The judge was in disagreement with a court decision to reverse a conviction in a narcotics case. We believe that the judge's words sound a refreshing note.

He said: "Of course, the guilty should have the same protective safeguards as the innocent and I would afford them as much.

"But I refuse to join in what I consider an unfortunate trend of judicial decisions in this field which strain and stretch to give the guilty not the same, but vastly more protection than the law-abiding citizen."

This sums up our own feelings. Every person brought before the courts is entitled to a fair trial, but the leniency of our justice has become a serious matter and must be tempered with punishment that fits the severity of the offense. We must stop letting confessed killers walk out of court on technicalities. The victim is entitled to a fair trial as well as the guilty.

The initial reaction in the Senate was overwhelmingly favorable to the appointment. Republican and democrat, liberal and conservative, men of all political ideals voiced their approval with the possible exception of the candidate from Massachusetts, Senator Teddy Kennedy, who appears to be wary of getting caught approving the actions of the President.

The bipartisan acceptance of Judge Burger seems to put into perspective the fears of all Americans of the permissiveness of our judicial system. It shows that almost all of our political factions are prepared to unite in the fight against the growing menace of crime. This is the only way this battle can be won. We hope that the new Chief Justice will not forget the spirit with which his nomination was greeted.

IT'S A GRAND OLD FLAG

-and millions of Americans (we hope) will fly Old Glory Saturday, June 14th by way of saying "Happy Birthday" to the United States of America.

It deserves to fly proudly - and be displayed properly. For those with doubts about some of the niceties of flag etiquette, particularly in mounting the flag flat against a building, here are two pointers:

Whether displayed horizontally or vertically, the star-spangled blue canton, or union, should be placed in the upper left corner, as the observer faces the flag.

While on the subject of holidays, here's a vigorous approving nod for various proposals to -

REVISE OUR CALENDARS

- so that more holidays will fall on Mondays.

The Massachusetts legislature has made a modest start with a bill that would so reschedule the observance of Washington's Birthday and Columbus Day.

Congress has before it two proposals that go farther. The first is by Rep. Samuel Stratton (D-N.Y.) It provides for celebration of Washington's Birthday on the third Monday in February; Memorial Day on the last Monday in May; Independence Day on the first Monday in July, and Veterans' Day on the second Monday in November.

A bill by Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.) provides similar arrangements for Memorial Day and Independence Day. It also would make the third Monday in February a holiday, but call it Presidents' Day (supposedly to give Abraham Lincoln equal billing with George Washington).

Veterans' Day, in the Smathers bill, would fall on the last Monday in October, and Thanksgiving on the fourth Monday in November.

We can hear the pained outcries from traditionalists over any such jiggling with dates hallowed by custom.

But Memorial Day, for instance, was set arbitrarily at May 30 by the Grand Army of the Republic to honor the Union dead of the Civil War.

We observe Nov. 11 as Veterans' Day because that day marked the end of the "war to end all war." It didn't, and the date itself consequently has lost much of its meaning.

The changes make sense. They would put an end to the chopped-up weeks that now result when holidays are celebrated in mid week and would permit travelers to make longer trips than two-day weekends allow.

There is nothing to prevent individual states from making some or all of the reforms suggested. But it will take Federal action to really get things moving. So come on Congress, get cracking.

MAC GOES PUBLIC

The Senate Commerce subcommittee on consumers will hold hearings on Wednesday (May 21) on public sales of chemical sprays for self-defense.

The story of a robbery in a Brooklyn department store is headlined: "4 Bandits Use Chemical Spray to Take $350,000 at A. & S." Police are quoted as saying Chemical Mace or a similar mixture was squirted from a pressure can or water pistol to blind the victims momentarily.

The incident is not the first of its kind. In three recent robberies in Maryland and one in Delaware thugs have used chemical irritants on their victims. Sprays have figured in robberies of a bar in New York City, a bus in Chicago, and a bank in Washington. The N. Y. TIMES reports: "In a midtown holdup on Oct. 12, 1967, six men and a woman using a spray got more than $3,000."

Chemical Mace (a trade name) is a disabling gas contained in pressurized cans. It has been used extensively by the police in a number of cities to quell mobs. The weapon affects vision and momentarily disorients its victim.

Mace is a product of General Ordnance Equipment Corporation. It has many imitators. Prof. Joseph A. Page of Georgetown University Law Center asserts: "Trading on the present mood of fear in the U. S. and on the publicity given to police use of chemical irritants, a number of companies -- some of them fly-by-night outfits -- are now offering for general sale aerosol sprays ranging from 6-inch, 70-shot canisters to cheap, lipstick-size weapons made in West Germany."

The New Republic had predicted a year ago: "There is a possibility that Mace will fall into many private hands." More recently The New York Review reported: "Mace and other similar products are now on sale to the public and are advertised as promoters of law and order. . . . The mass marketing of chemical sprays may be just around the corner."

The active irritant in Mace is simply tear gas (CN), which affects principally the eyes. The inventor, Alan Litman, added a chemical that breaks down the oily protective coating of the skin to let the gas work directly on the nerve ends all over the face and hands. A victim's face feels on fire.

Mace has been used by police principally for crowd control, although it is really a man - to - man weapon. It has been considered for military use. The Pentagon's research consortium, the Institute for Defense Analysis, the November 1967 called Chemical Mace "a most promising development in nonlethal weaponry." Ironically, Litman, the inventor, was looking for a device to protect his wife.

Prof. Page writes in Commonweal: "Pre-testing of the sprays has been funfuctory at best. Legal control over their manufacture, labeling, and advertising has been inadequate."

The Senate Commerce subcommittee now looking into the chemical sprays will consider whether the Food and Drug Administration should administer their manufacture and sale under the Federal Hazardous Substances Labeling Act. Dr. Lawrence Rose, San Francisco ophthalmologist, has reported on eight cases of post-Mace eye damage.

The subcommittee is also considering whether the Federal Trade Commission should take action against some of the spray manufacturers for false advertising. Ads usually stress the fact that any effects are temporary and harmless. The question before Congress would seem to involve controlling the threat of chemical warfare in the streets.

TAKE A MODEST STEP

One of the most heartening stories we've come across in weeks was an account of a new concept in applied good citizenship to be carried out, on a voluntary basis, by employees of an American corporation.

The Olivetti Underwood Corporation is a large and progressive organization numbering some 6,000 employees, with many offices throughout the country. Olivetti President Gianluigi Gabetti recently announced a community action program to be undertaken by company employees in cities where Olivetti has offices.

Urging Olivetti Underwood people "to enter some doorway in human life in the community where that life can be heartened and improved," Mr. Gabetti emphasized the need for reaching out to "the underprivileged, the minorities, the lost, the lonely who make up what has come to be called the urban crisis in America."

The unusual aspect of the program lies in its being launched through completely personal motivation in voluntary, after-hours and unpaid service. It can take place in a community organization to which an employee already belongs, in newer organizations formed to tackle contemporary social and environmental problems, or in individual service to a neighbor.

The program, called "Take a Modest Step", carries awards for meaningful work. These will, however, be non-monetary. "How can we put a price tag that means anything on an award to a person who will really work at this?" Mr. Gabetti asked.

"There is a shortage of simplicity about us," Mr. Gabetti continued. "We make a giant, incredible leap to the moon, but we appear to have forgotten how to cross the streets to a neighbor in need. Certainly this much change, and those of us who can must be the instruments of change, effected through simple, direct approaches to others."

We applaud this kind of thoughtful leadership from business leaders. They seem to understand that kind acts, helpful service to others, and genuine concern for the unfortunate carry rich and lasting satisfactions for those who are willing to work selflessly. We hope other corporation heads will see the worth of the kind of program Olivetti Underwood is sponsoring.

An optimist is a fellow who can take ventilation when he has holes in his shoes.

Motorists were urged today by the Missouri State Highway Patrol to be extra alert for the youngsters now that schools have closed for the summer. The Colenel E. L. (Mike) Hockaday, the Patrol Superintendent, noted that 19 children under the age of 15 were killed in Missouri traffic last year. Several other youngsters were injured in collisions with motor vehicles. "Children playing near the street, or on bicycles, don't have the traffic experience that motorists have," Hockaday stated. "Although children are physically active and have been sense, they do not often fully realize the speed and momentum of the automobile and the driver's limitations. Their young minds are fully engaged with the games they may be playing and they do not think of traffic dangers. Motorists, therefore, should give children the benefit of their knowledge and expect the unexpected from youngsters."

Colenel Hockaday urged drivers to be watchful for children when they see bicycles, wagons and other toys near the side of the road. The sound of shouts and laughter can also serve as a warning to motorists that youngsters are close by. "Parents must also do their part to protect children from being involved in a traffic accident," the Colenel continued. "They should instruct their youngsters on the various basic safety rules and required strict obedience of these rules."

Well-to-do Americans who are able to use "tax shelters" to the fullest extent, even to total avoidance of Federal income tax liability, should not be soaked with a new special tax proposed by the Treasury Department. That is the prevailing opinion of King Kamehameha, I, first to among the nation's independent rule over all of the islands, business proprietors, a poll Parade, pagentry and luau. A shows.

The major provision of the law which enables some wealthy persons to pay little or no tax is the tax-exempt status granted to municipal and state bonds. Thus a wealthy widow whose inheritance is invested in tax-free bonds, with little other income, may pay no income tax. Congress voted this tax exemption on bonds to enable states and municipalities to sell bonds at low interest rates.

Many of the businessmen who object to the proposed alternative tax apparently fear that offsetting this tax advantage would result in higher interest on these bonds-- additional costs easily.

Boasting about the bargain secondhand car you got for $1,000 and then finding out it's the same car an acquaintance down the street sold to the dealer for $50.

Inflated egos among individuals cause trouble at home, and among nations they cause wars abroad.

But it is so difficult today, beset as our life is with unsolved complexities, to keep our self-esteem that it would seem all but impossible for anyone to get delusions of superiority. There are too many possible commpanees waiting to ambush our vanity.

Here, for example, are a few things that tend to keep our heads the same size as our hatbands and teach us humility: The high cost of living. Hooking what you think is the biggest trout in the pool and then pulling out a dripping, discarded boot.

The tax law sets high rates on large taxable incomes, but provides hundreds of ways in which gross income can be pared down before the rates are applied. Rich people often make use of exemptions on capital gains, fast depreciation allowances, pre-paid interest deductions, and the like.

If, as frequently charged, these amount to favoritism, the nation's independent business owners apparently would rather see these "shelters" and "loopholes" repealed instead of enactment of a discriminatory tax.

A Speech Problem THE GROCER'S little girl came home after a holiday at her aunt's to find that triplets had been added to the family. "How silly of you, mommy," she said. "You should have done the ordering -- you know how Daddy stutters."

A long-winded toastmaster kept the audience fidgeting for 50 minutes. Finally his supply of words ran out. "And now," he said, turning to the next speaker, "I'm going to call on Mr. Jones to give his address."

Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson say: Dirksen beats the critics to get Burger confirmed; he's also recommended a federal judge who barred Jews from Chicago apartment; Louisiana Senator wins Russian confidence. WASHINGTON--Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois has become the eagrest eagle-beaver on Capitol Hill to rush the confirmation of federal judges. He tried to push the Justice Warren Burger up from Dirksen saying that I would be June 9 to June 5 for fear more details would leak out regarding Burger's amazing discussion at the Santa Barbara center for the study of democratic institutions at which Burger blasted the fifth amendment, cast doubt on the jury system, and decried the presumption of innocence until proven guilty.

In contrast to Burger, Chief Justice Warren was appointed in September 1953 and he was not confirmed until March 2, 1954. Yet every chapter of his long life as Attorney General and Governor of California was well known, in contrast to the little-known Burger.

Now it develops that Sen. Dirksen is pushing confirmation of another judge of dubious qualification, Charles A. Bain of Chicago, to the seventh circuit court of appeals; Bain is a member of the law firm of Isham, Lincoln and Beall, which represents commonwealth Edison, Sam Insull's old Utility firm. He has been on the special-interest side in every squabble in Chicago.

In addition, he has a record of favoring religious segregation. When Judge Jacob Braude, for 35 years on the Illinois Circuit Court applied for an apartment at 209 Lake Shore Drive in Chicago, he was barred as a result of Bain's opposition because he is Jewish. Bain was both a resident in the apartment house and Attorney for the management.

Bain also helped bar Phil Klutznick, head of B'Nai B'Rith and former ambassador to the United Nations; also Dr. Morris

"Nothing, nothing at all, Cherie," replied her mother. "I want one," said the child. The mother tried to focus her daughter's attention on a more suitable subject, but the little girl persisted. "I want one just like that," she kept repeating. At last the mother said, "If you are a good girl and stop thinking about it now, when you grow up you will have one."

"And if I'm bad?" asked the little one. "Then," answered the mother, "you will have many."

H.L. Hunt Says

PROTECTION FOR INTELLIGENCE MISSIONS It is important to the security of the United States that our country engage in intelligence activity. It is equally important that these intelligence missions be adequately protected.

In recent months North Korea, one of the most aggressive countries in the world, has seized a U.S. intelligence ship and shot down a U.S. airplane engaged in reconnaissance. Neither the Pueblo nor the EC121 was protected.

When the North Koreans fired upon the Pueblo, the captain radioed for help. No assistance was forthcoming. The ship had been sent unarmed into dangerous territory with no U.S. warships nearby to provide help in case of attack. One crewman was killed, and the others had to spend many months in communist prison, undergoing brutal treatment.

Even after the Pueblo incident, reconnaissance flights were sent near to communist Korean territory without fighter protection. Our government should have realized from the seizure of our ship that the North Koreans were likely to commit hostile acts, but apparently this lesson was not learned.

The EC121 was an unarmed, propeller driven airplane. It was shot down by Russian-built MIG jets. It had no chance at all to be saved. Thirty-one crewman lost their lives in this attack.

In a news conference shortly after the loss of the EC121, President Nixon affirmed that intelligence flights would continue, because they were essential to the safety of 56,000 United States troops stationed in the Republic of Korea. He said that from now on these missions will be adequately protected, presumably by jet fighter cover. It is about time. HLLH

Ann Landers

Doctor's Wife Says No Doctor Should Marry

Dear Ann Landers: The Catholic Church had the right idea when they made a rule that priests could never marry. I hope they don't change it. And now I think the American Medical Association should make a rule. Doctors should not be allowed to marry.

I've been the wife of a physician for 30 years and I can vouch for the fact that doctors make the rottenest husbands in the world. Somehow I got the crazy idea that if I married a doctor I'd have someone to look after me if I became ill. What a joke. If a doctor's wife or his children, God forbid, get sick they can die before they get treated. The closest thing I ever got from my doctor-husband in the way of medical attention was this sentence, "Go look in the top drawer of my desk. There's all kind of stuff in there. Take what you need."

If the children get sick in the middle of the night he doesn't want to call a doctor because he hates to "bother a friend." Our friends and relatives don't seem to mind bothering HIM however.

When I was a dewey-eyed, romantic co-ed I thought it would be wonderful to be married to a professional man. And I STILL do. A lawyer. — G.P.'s Mate

Dear Mate: Your letter should be answered by a doctor's wife and I don't qualify. How about it, Girls? Who out there would like to play Ann Landers for a day and respond to this G.P.'s Wife? I'll print the best letter.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a teen-age boy who must disagree with your answer to "Miss Hands Off" — the girl who punched her date in the mouth because he put his hands where they didn't belong. You said a girl doesn't have to give a guy a klop in the chops in order to deliver the message. You suggested instead "a few well-chosen words."

I'm a pretty cool high school senior who has dated all kinds of girls and scored with several. I can tell you from experience that you're wrong. Words don't

The Rev. Lloyd D. Marsh

Missionaries To Peru Will Speak June 11

The Reverend Lloyd D. Marsh, an Assemblies of God missionary to Peru, South America, will be guest speaker Wednesday, 7:30 P.M. at the First Assembly of God church, 306 S. Kingshighway, Sikeston. Pastor T. A. McDonough, has announced.

During their first term of missionary service, the Marshes directed the denomination's Bible school in Lima, Peru, and pioneered a new work in Puno. Presently there are two churches and two outstations in that area as a result of this outreach. Mr. Marsh recently finished a book entitled HACED DISCIPULOS (Make Disciples) that gives instructions for new Christians.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh attended Central Bible College in Springfield, Missouri, where he received his B.A. and M.A. Before receiving appointment to the mission field, the Marshes pastored churches in Pleasanton and Elkhart, Kansas.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas - If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

Dog Show

Set Sunday

The Southeast Missouri Kennel Club will present its twenty-first All-Breed Dog Show and obedience trial, Sunday, at the arena building, Fairgrounds park, Cape Girardeau, Missouri. The show hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. C.D.S.T. A portion of the proceeds from this show will be donated to the small animal division of the Veterinarian School of Missouri University, and for dog publications donated to four local libraries.

An expected entry of 750 dogs will be representing some 85 different breeds that are recognized by the American Kennel Club. The AKC actually recognizes a total of 115 breeds. Competition will begin promptly at 8 and continue until the announcement of the "Best In Show" award. This coveted award will be sought by handlers and dogs from all parts of the nation. Judging schedules and catalogs listing every dog entered will be available at the show entrances. Also available will be refreshment facilities.

Parma Grabs Lead

Parma grabbed the lead in the newly formed Four-County Babe Ruth league as it posted a 6-5 win over Bertrand last night for its second league victory, while Bell City evened its record at 1-1 with an 11-6 win over Benton. Vanduser (1-0) was idle last night.

Bell City's David Swindell pitched and hit his team past Benton, allowing but eight hits while collecting three RBIs with a ground rule double. Lee Rendelman also had a ground rule double for the winners.

Parma banged out 11 hits in posting its come-from-behind victory at Bertrand last night. Bertrand took a 2-0 lead in the first and held Parma scoreless until the second, when it pushed one run in. It added runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth to win.

Jeff Jackson went the distance on the mound for the winners, allowing nine hits and collecting 10 strikeouts.

Randy South's sacrifice bunt in the sixth inning enabled Darrell Biggs to score what proved to be the winning margin as the host tallied a lone run in the bottom of the seventh.

Defensive play by Van Pawlowski, enabled Parma to thwart threats in the fifth and sixth innings.

Awarded Bronze Star

CHARLESTON — Marine Private First Class William Lee Jr., son of Mrs. William Lee of 513 W. Ada, Charleston, was awarded the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" ceremonies May 6 at the Marine Barracks, Yokosuka, Japan.

He received the award for heroic achievement in connection with operations against the enemy in the Republic of Vietnam while serving as a Rifleman with Company C, First Battalion, Seventh Marine Regiment, First Marine Division.

Before entering the service in August 1967, Private First Class Lee graduated from Charleston High School.

PFC Lee's citation for the medal reads as follows:

"For heroic achievement in connection with operations against the enemy in the Republic of Vietnam while serving as a Rifleman with Company C, First Battalion, Seventh Marines, First Marine Division.

"During the early morning hours of 17 November 1968, a squad from Company C was moving from a night ambush position to its patrol base when the Marines came under a heavy volume of mortar, grenade and automatic weapons fire from an estimated North Vietnamese Army Platoon occupying well-concealed emplacements and immediately sustained numerous casualties.

Although seriously wounded in the initial moments of the fire fight, Private First Class Lee ignored his painful injuries and commenced delivering suppressive fire upon the numerically superior hostile force, until reaction squads arrived. Steadfastly refusing medical attention, he then directed the fire of the relief unit at the concealed enemy positions and, when all of his ammunition was expended, he repeatedly exposed himself to the intense North Vietnamese fire as he carried casualties across the hazardous area to positions of relative safety, until he eventually lost consciousness.

"Private First Class Lee's courage, bold initiative and unflinching devotion to duty at great personal risk inspired all who observed him and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and of the United States Naval Service."

The citation is signed by Lieut. General H. W. Buse Jr., commanding general of the Fleet Marine Force, Pacific.

CHALK MYSTERY SOLVED
HAYDOCK, England (AP) — The case of the vanishing chalk had a club's billiards players snookered. But now the riddle has been solved.

Woman visitors at Haydock Conservative Club in Lancashire were spotted using the chalk as an eye shadow.

Rotarians Talk "Plant Up" Promotion of Ethical Test

Rotarians last night discussed ways to make Rotary International's copyrighted ethical test better known to people, particularly businessmen and young people.

S. F. Duckworth suggested that an essay contest on the test be given to students throughout the Rotary district. Ed Ring proposed that it be displayed on a billboard. Others proposed that the club distribute plastic mounted copies of the test for display on desks and that they be given to speakers at Rotary club meetings.

The test, written by Chicago Rotarian Herbert J. Taylor, asks four questions: Is it the truth? Is it fair to all concerned? Will it build goodwill and better friendships? Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

The club will meet next Monday at 6 p.m. at the Lucien Stoner cabin at Lake Wappapello.

Club officers will attend a Rotary district assembly and leadership forum at Dexter high school June 18.

Eliza Slocum of Eldorado, Ill., was a guest of his brother-in-law Fred Koch at last night's meeting at the Rustic Rock Inn. Visiting Rotarians were Richard Bissell and Hal Jean of the Dexter club.

Charles Green led the club singing accompanied by Emily Bruce at the piano.

Heavy Fogging, Rain Equals Fewer Mosquitoes

CHARLESTON — The "plant - up" phase of Charleston's month-long Cleanup campaign has received a setback after officials at the IOOF Cemetery disclosed that two yew trees planted recently by private donors had been stolen.

The donors - a group of several women who wish to remain anonymous - had given more than $175 worth of plants to the cemetery, including shrubbery, two dogwood trees, and the two yew trees. They had then paid to have them watered during a period when one of the women was on a brief vacation.

"I'll recognize those trees if I see them," one of the women commented Friday, "and I am looking for them. If the party who took them will return the trees, no questions will be asked," she added.

The ladies said they plan to put an evergreen ground cover around the cemetery gates in the fall to continue their private beautification efforts.

A combination of little rain and lots of fogging during the past month has reduced the mosquito menace in the city.

City Manager W. Raymott Miller said today the fortunate combination has resulted in fewer complaints about the pesky insects that cost the city $3,000 last year in the fogging operations.

During the past month the city has used approximately 25 gallons of the chemical insect killer - Malathion - at a cost of about $8 per gallon. The killer ingredient is mixed at a ratio of one gallon per 50 gallons of kerosene, Miller reported.

The city has no intentions of letting up in the spraying due to the temporary relief. The city sprays every night the weather allows. Spraying is not done when it is windy.

A major factor contributing to the temporary relief has been the low amount of rainfall received - a total of 1.96 inches during May and only a trace in June.

The city has one spraying device mounted on a truck and can cover the town in two nights.

The moon travels from west to east.

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL of the Head Start program at Southwest school Monday had around 140 children, ages four through six years in attendance. Leaving the school by busses shortly after 1 p.m. is one of the groups taken to taken to their homes. With them is one of the teachers, Violetta McGee, standing second from right; and three aides, Imogene LaPlant, Betty Simmons and Clara Sauls.

Starts Typing Class

EAST PRAIRIE—Classes in equivalency are now being typing, under the auspices of the local DAEOC center, have begun and will meet each Monday and Tuesday nights at 7:00 o'clock. Other activities at the center are senior citizens meeting each Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. in the field of Arts and Building Trades class, Tuesday at 7:30. G.E.D. class for high school Crafts, Tuesday at 7:30.

Featured this week will be a flower arrangement demonstration by Mrs. Emma Hilbrook.

All clubs are welcome to use the facilities of the local center for any meetings. Contact the center at 113 West Main St., phone 649-3064.

Street To Be Widened

CHARLESTON—After almost two years of wrangling over right-of-way acquisition, the State Highway Commission is finally advertising for bids on the widening and resurfacing of South 10th Street in front of the new high school.

The street and a portion of Iron Bank Road will be redesignated Route UU, and that designation will be removed from the present Route UU about one-half mile east of the city limits.

Right-of-way within the city limits was acquired by the city council, with the cooperation of the R-1 Board of Education. Right-of-way for the remainder of the resurfacing and widening project was acquired by the Mississippi County Court. Cost of the project, exclusive of the right-of-way costs, will be paid by the state.

Bids on the 2,155-mile project will be accepted by the Commission at 10 a.m. June 27 at its offices in Jefferson City.

East Prairie

Receives Praise

EAST PRAIRIE—East Prairie and Hayti received praise and commendation in the "Southeast Missouri Roundup" story in the Missouri Community Betterment News for the month of June.

The two communities were praised for their efforts to clean up their towns and the efforts are bearing fruit in the form of solid results. Both towns have attacked the problem of derelict automobiles, dilapidated buildings, dangerous cesspools, and general eyesores to the community.

Mrs. Carey Johnson is the Community Betterment chairman in East Prairie and she is very pleased with the cooperation that has been received and feels that East Prairie is on their way to becoming a five star city.

Awarded Scholarship

EAST PRAIRIE—FAYETTE, Mo. — Bruce Banks, son of Mrs. Jeroldine Banks of Rt. 2, East Prairie, was named the recipient of a Brown Shoe Company Scholarship to Central College.

Banks will be a junior at Central Methodist College.

Speaks To Optimist Club

Marshall Moore, merchant, and guest of the Optimist club, spoke to the members on a work project for teenage youths of the city, whereby both boys and girls could be taught industrial arts, woodwork, leather goods, basket weaving and a variety of youth interests.

He has made a survey of various civic leaders, who urged that such a program be opened if a suitable building could be found. Buildings suitable for the project would be the airport school, the Nailing building or a portion of the First Baptist church.

The Optimist club will assist in directing the program, and obtain leaders for a coeducational program.

Other guests were Chuck Grant and Sam Shaw.

RICHARD BLOOMFIELD

Dr. Bloomfield Wins Superior Teaching Award

Professor of Agricultural Chemistry College of Agriculture University of Mo. - Columbia "A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

Anonymous

Dr. Richard A. Bloomfield, Professor of Agricultural Chemistry, is the 1969 recipient of the Gamma Sigma Delta Award of Merit for Superior Teaching. He is a dedicated and devoted teacher, a friend to and motivator of students, and a much respected and sought after advisor. Students, both undergraduate and graduate, feel free to bring their problems to him for they know that they will receive sound, practical advice.

The instructional qualities of Dr. Bloomfield were pointed out in the following statements by former students who wrote, "I can truthfully say that Agricultural Biochemistry 210 was the most interesting chemistry course that I took in college." Another wrote, "Dr. Bloomfield's enthusiasm for chemistry is contagious and increased our interest in the subject." A third wrote, "Dr. Bloomfield was, at all times, well organized and up to date on the latest developments in biochemistry. He is friendly, cheerful, and has an excellent sense of humor. He speaks on the students' level and leaves no doubt of his sincere interest in helping them. Even though he is very busy, he makes himself available to help us in any way possible. His tests are practical, and he uses them fully as teaching aids. Students appreciate his 'extra' efforts in preparing teaching materials and study problems. The latter are used very effectively in helping students understand various principles of chemistry. He is 'tops' in my book, and I sincerely wish that this institution had more teachers like him."

Dr. Bloomfield's knowledge and understanding of chemistry and a love for teaching, coupled with an innate ability to appeal to students, make him an ideal teacher. He believes in the value of illustrations and demonstrations which he uses effectively. He is a skillful lecturer and has the ability to make chemistry interesting and challenging. He stimulates students to think and work independently. His lectures are well prepared and presented. Many students have credited him with helping them choose a career in agricultural chemistry and a high percentage enter graduate school.

Richard Allen Bloomfield was born January 2, 1933, in Sikeston, Missouri. After graduating from Sikeston High School in 1950, he entered Southeast Missouri State College at Cape Girardeau. He is transferred to the University of Missouri - Columbia in 1952 and received the B.S. degree in 1954. Plans to continue his higher education were interrupted by a two-year tour in the Chemical Corps of the United States Army from August, 1954, until August, 1956. He accepted a teaching and research assistantship in Agricultural Chemistry in September, 1956, and received the M.S. degree in 1958. From 1958-1960, he held an instructorship in Agricultural Chemistry and was awarded the Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1960.

He joined the staff on a full-time basis as assistant professor in 1960. He was promoted to associate and full professor in 1963 and 1967, respectively, and was made department chairman in 1967. The pursuit of excellence in enhanced by long hours of effort and an understanding wife. The conscientious and devoted 1969 recipient gives freely of his time to teaching improvement, and he was fortunate in selecting Mary Jane Terrell to provide encouragement and support at home. They have three children: Cynthia Louise, 13; Matthew David, 9; and Emily Jane, 7; and live at 5 Longfellow Lane.

Dr. Bloomfield is a member of Gamma Sigma Delta, Sigma XI, American Chemical Society, American Society of Animal Science, Kiwanis, and has authored or co-authored 62 scientific publications. He is an example of an outstanding investigator who is also an outstanding teacher. He is the Long Range Planning, faculty advisor to the Admissions, and Degrees Requirements committee of the Agricultural Chemistry Club and the Agricultural Council. Dr. Bloomfield is currently serving on seven important committees and is chairman of the Courses Mrs. Dess (Mabel) Bloomfield, 223 Moore.

A Tribute . . . To Fathers

There's an old saying that "mother knows best." Well, it seems to us that Father, bless him, should come in for some compliments, too, once in a while. It is true, of course, that upon mother's patient shoulders rests the upbringing of the children. And that is as it should be. But let's not forget that Pa is generally the family breadwinner and it is up to him to pay the bills. When day is done and he comes home, make things as cheery and loving as you can. Have a nice dinner ready. Lay out his slippers and his beloved pipe. Show him how much you love him by being kind and considerate. He may not tell you how he appreciates these attentions. But he will . . . as all good fathers do!

General Conway Named Kermit Roosevelt Lecturer

five British colleges May 5-16. Lt. Gen. Sir John Mogg, KCB, CBE, DSO, will be the United Kingdom's Kermit Roosevelt Fund lecturer to the United States.

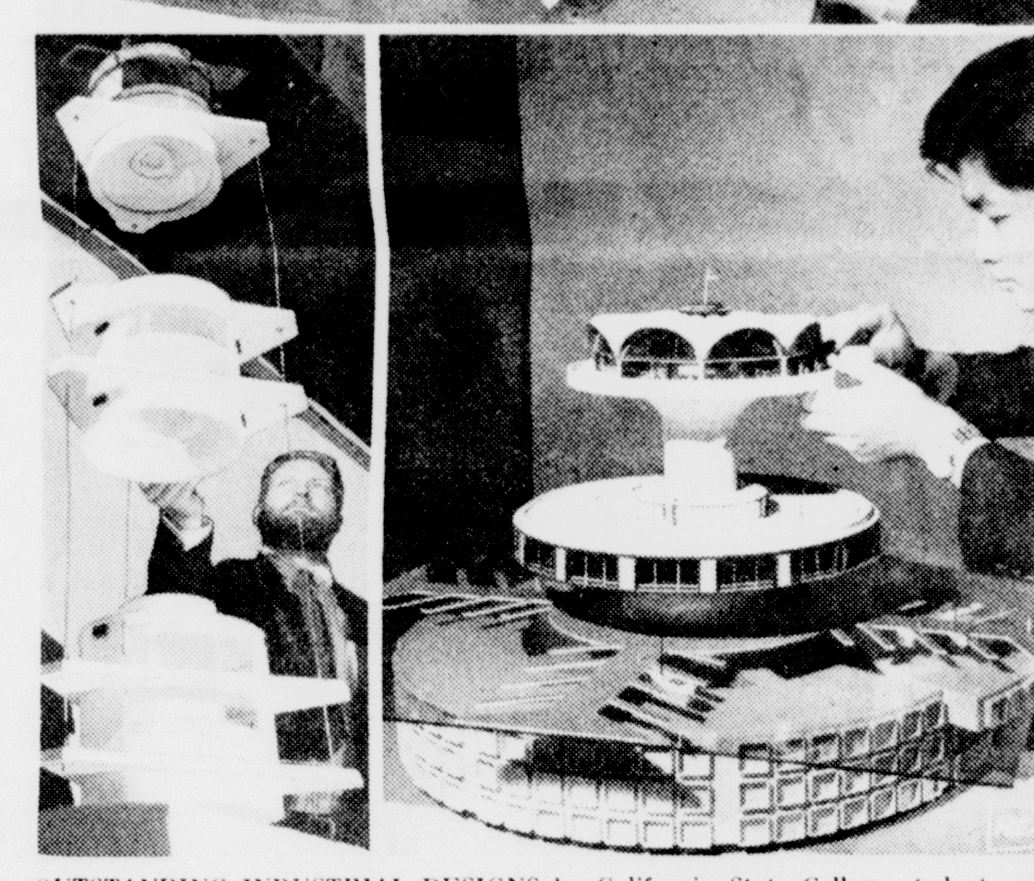

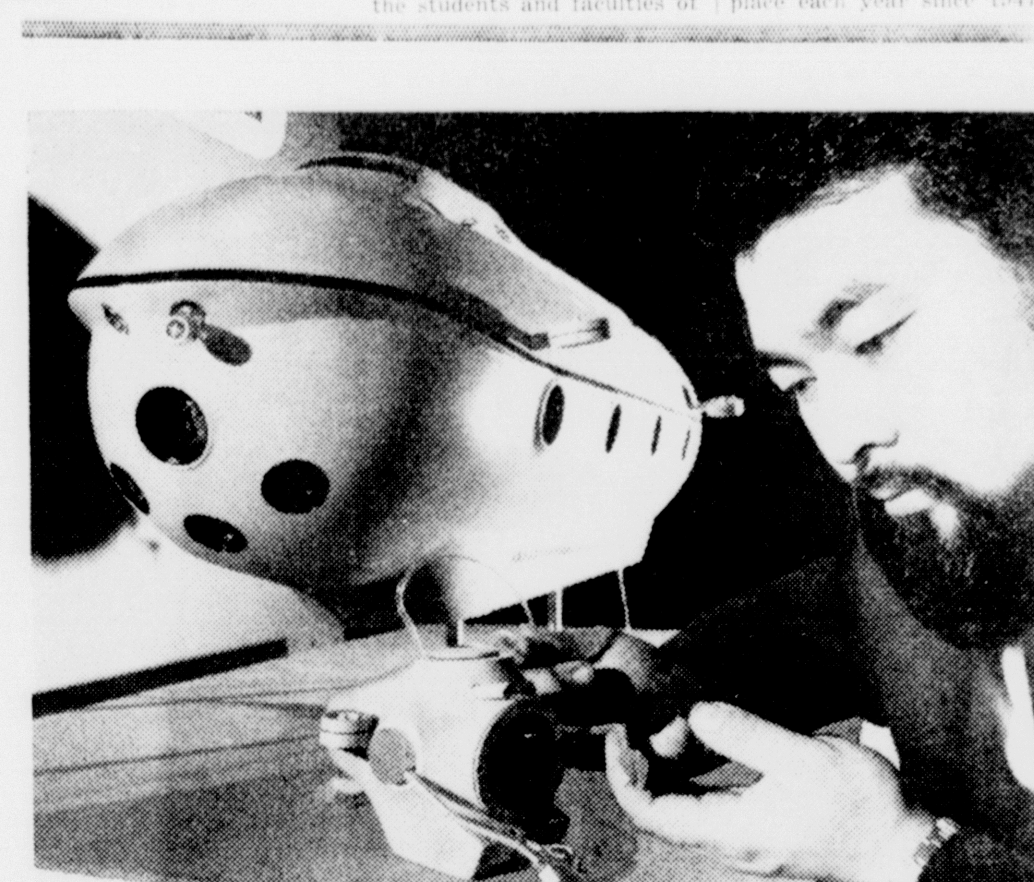

Ma. Kermit Roosevelt, son of President Theodore Roosevelt, served in both the British and American armies. He also authored several books.

The lectures are part of an exchange program sponsored by the Kermit Roosevelt Fund which was established after the major's death.

Under the auspices of this fund, which was instituted by a Joint Resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives in 1945, the exchange of British and American Army lecturers has taken place each year since 1947.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Army General Theodore J. Conway, commander-in-chief, U. S. Strike Command, has been appointed the Kermit Roosevelt Fund lecturer to the United Kingdom for 1969. Tentative plans are for General Conway to address the students and faculties of

St. Ann's Potluck Supper Attended by 100 Persons

NEW MADRID — St. Ann Sodality of the Immaculate Conception Church hosted a parish-wide potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the grade school.

More than 100 persons attended. Guests included former priests of the parish, the Rev. Fr. Walter Craig, Immaculate Conception parish at Jackson, the Rev. Fr. Joseph Cronin, St. Timothy parish at St. Louis, the Rev. Fr. Anthony Staud, Holy Trinity parish at Springfield and the Rev. Fr. John Wells, St. Joseph parish at Advance. The Rev. Fr. Boscoe Westrich, assistant pastor at Jackson, accompanied the Rev. Fr. Craig.

A con-celebrated Mass at 5:30 p.m. preceded the dinner. New Sodality officers elected are president, Nancy Kaiser, vice president, Patti Hunter, secretary, Sharon Ann Riley and treasurer, Barbara Alsbrook.

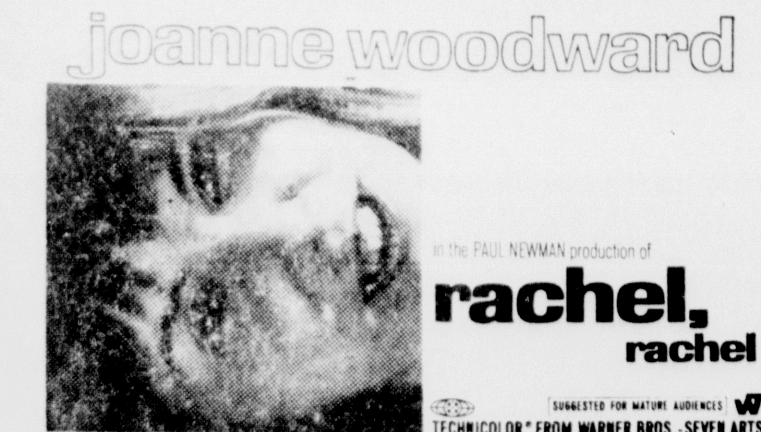

Father Staud serving as master of ceremonies introduced the parish council members, the parish school board and teachers, and presidents of the Mothers Club and Holy Name Society.

Participating in a skit entitled "Excuses" were the Rev. Fr. Wally Ellinger, Carol St. Mary, Nancy Kaiser, Sharon Riley, Clara St. Mary, Hallie Broughton, Marie Hunter, Lucille French and Loretta Alexander.

Nancy Kaiser gave a report on activities of the Sodality for the past two years. Outgoing officers and apostolate chairmen introduced included Loretta Alexander, president and parish apostolate chairman, Carol Bixler, vice president, Nancy Kaiser, treasurer, Nancy Kaiser, secretary and organization apostolate chairman, Mary Margaret Brown, world apostolate chairman, Carol St. Mary, family apostolate chairman, and Virginia Ann Carlson, community apostolate chairman.

Each visiting priest gave a talk on their activities since leaving New Madrid. Serving as hostesses were Libba Crisler, Cathy Dawson, Carolyn Hedgepeth, Virginia Recker, Mary Hunter, Colleen Hunter and Alberta Ramsey.

MANIFESTO

To the white Christian Churches and the Jewish Synagogues in the United States of America and all other racist institutions. Presentation by James Forman delivered and adopted by the National Black Economic Development Conference in Detroit, Michigan, on April 26, 1969.

Time is short and we do not have much time and it is time we stop mining words. Caution is not an oppressed people ever gained their liberation until they were ready to fight, to use whatever means necessary, including the use of force and power of the gun to bring down the colonizer. We have heard the rhetoric, but we have not heard the rhetoric which says that black people in this country must understand that we are the Vanguard Force. We shall liberate all the people in the U.S. and we will be instrumental in the liberation of colored people the world around. We must understand this point very clearly so that we are not trapped into diversionary and reactionary movements. Any class analysis of the U.S. shows very clearly that black people are the most oppressed group of people inside the United States. We have suffered the most from racism and exploitation, cultural degradation and lack of political power. It follows from the laws of revolution that the most oppressed will make the revolution, but we are not the Vanguard, but we must assume leadership, total control and we must exercise the humanity which is inherent in us. We are the most humane people within the U.S. We have suffered and we understand suffering. Our hearts go out to the Vietnamese for we know what it is to suffer under the domination of racist America. Our hearts, our soul and all the compassion we can mount goes out to our brothers in Africa, Santa Domingo, Latin America and Asia who are being tricked by the power structure of the U.S. which is dominating the world today. These ruthless, barbaric men have systematically tried to kill all people and organizations opposed to its imperialism. We no longer can just get by with the use of the word capitalism to describe the U.S., for it is an imperial power, sending money, missionaries and the army throughout the world to protect this government and the few rich whites who control it. General Motors and all the major auto industries are operating in South Africa, yet the white dominated leadership of the United Auto Workers sees no relationship to the exploitation of black people in South Africa and the exploitation of black people in the U.S. If they understand it, they certainly do not put it into practice which is the actual test. We as black people must be concerned with the total conditions of all black people in the world.

But while we talk of revolution which will be an armed confrontation and long years of sustained guerilla warfare inside this country, we must also talk of the type of world we want to live in. We must commit ourselves to a society where the total means of production are taken from the rich and placed into the hands of the people. This is what we mean when we say total control. And we mean that black people who have suffered the most from exploitation and racism must move to protect their black interest by assuming leadership inside of the United States of everything that exists. The time has passed when we are second in command and the white boy stands on top. This is especially true of the Welfare Agencies in this country, but it is not enough to say that a black man is on top. He must be committed to building the new society, to taking the wealth away from the rich people such as General Motors, Ford, Chrysler, the DuPonts, the Rockefellers, the Mellons, and all the other rich white exploiters and racist who run this world.

Where do we begin? We have already started. We started the moment we were brought to this country. In fact, we started on the shores of Africa, for we have always resisted attempts to make us slaves and now we must resist the attempts to make us capitalists. It is the financial interest of the U.S. to make the same line as that of integration into the mainstream of American life. Therefore, brothers and sisters, there is no need to fall into the trap that we have to get an ideology. We HAVE an ideology. Our fight is against racism, capitalism, and imperialism and we are dedicated to building a socialist society inside the United States where the total means of production and distribution are in the hands of the State and that must be led by black people, by revolutionary blacks who are concerned about the total humanity of this world. And, therefore, we obviously are different from some of those who seek a black nation in the United States, for there is no way for that nation to be viable if in fact the United States remains in the hands of white racists. Then too, let us deal with some arguments that we should share power with whites. We say that there must be a revolutionary black Vanguard and that white people in this country must be willing to accept black leadership, for that is the only protection that black people have to protect ourselves from racism rising again in this country. Horne To Build

New Home

50 years ago
June 10, 1919

The plans for Frank Van Horne's new seven room bungalow are ready and they will probably start on the house in the next two weeks. It will be located on Ranney and Lake streets.

The ole swimming pool-as yet merely a set of place-thought it had located a place to roost, only to be cast adrift again. Shunted and kicked around like an orphan stepchild, the pool is still looking for a place to light. Just when it was thought the pool would be built on the South Grade School grounds, came a petition signed by 70 property holders in the vicinity, urging the City Council Monday evening not to building the pool at this place because it would take play space from the children.

Cooking Cabbage Can Be Offensive

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

The Hooples and Dinkles were neighbors in a small apartment house who couldn't get along because they argued from different premises. After months of heated disputes, they began to engage in psychological warfare. Doors were slammed in the middle of the night; dirt was swept into the hallway in front of the other's door; and radios were played loud and long throughout the night.

It was Mrs. Hoople, however, who finally broke the cold war when she discovered the ultimate weapon. She began to cook cabbage daily with her doors open so that the smell would drift gently into Mrs. Dinkle's apartment. Recognizing that there were no defenses to cooking cabbage, Mrs. Dinkle sought legal reinforcements in court.

"I demand that Mrs. Hoople be ordered to keep her doors closed when cooking cabbage," she insisted doggedly. "The odors are a menace as well as a nuisance. They hold me smell bound."

"Huh!" was Mrs. Hoople's response. "I can cook anything I want in my apartment. No one can tell me what to eat. If Mrs. Dinkle doesn't approve of my menus, she can move. To her the whole world is a smell."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order Mrs. Hoople to keep her doors closed when cooking cabbage?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! He held that every family has the legal right to security in their homes; that they are entitled to have peace, quiet and comfort against purely wanton and needless attacks from those whose hospitality they may in some way have incurred. But, the court added, when there appears to be an unfortunate quarrel between two women, and both are at fault, the courts will not interfere and protect one against the other.

(Based upon an 1888 West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals Decision)

PLENTY OF SERVANTS — A Witwatersrand University survey reported that in no other

South African families of their family budgets on slaves spend 3.2 per cent of their servants than families in any other budgets for this country's plentiful country.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PRESCRIPTION:

...the man
you trust

As Registered Pharmacists, professional men, we don't sell our wares "door-to-door" nor do we solicit prescription business through the mail. Though we wear the hat of a retail store owner, selling other merchandise traditionally related to the drug store, our prescription service is the heart of our business. We have a responsibility to maintain if we're to retain the professional trust of your doctor. Because of our experience and integrity in compounding and dispensing only the freshest drugs, with the most modern equipment, you need never fear an impersonal, unconcerned, nor irresponsible approach to the filling of your prescriptions. We are mindful of our responsibility and reputation, always anxious to earn your complete confidence.

For the highest pharmaceutical standards, low prices consistent with quality and the personal attention you can always depend upon, bring your prescriptions to

Weed Control Tour

Slated At Portag'ille

PORTAGEVILLE: A weed control tour will be held at the University of Missouri Delta Center Research Farm, 9:00 A.M., Friday, June 27th, according to Joe Scott, State Extension Agronomist, stationed here.

Cotton and soybean weed control methods will be featured during the tour.

Dr. Harold Kerr, University of Missouri Weed Control Researcher, and Scott will point out and discuss the results of preemergent and postemergent herbicides in cotton and soybeans. Included in the herbicide tests are various rates and combinations compared for weed control effectiveness.

Anyone interested in observing the latest developments in cotton and soybean weed control are invited to go on the tour. The tour should be completed before Noon said Scott.

J. V. Ferrell, 76, route two retired farmer and oil company owner, died Monday at 3:05 p.m. at his home from an apparent heart attack.

Jethro Valentine Ferrell was born in Tipton county, Tenn., Feb. 3, 1893, and was a resident of the Sikeston area for 46 years.

He moved to the Sikeston area in 1923 and began farming. In 1938 he opened the Ferrell Oil company at Morehouse, and in 1940 opened an oil company in Sikeston. He retired in 1949.

On Feb. 28, 1917, he married Miss Thelma Jane Lanier who survives.

In 1964 he accompanied a group of Missourians on a People to People agricultural tour of Russia.

He was an active member of the Miner Baptist church.

Surviving are his wife; two sons, Frank Ferrell and J. V. Ferrell Jr., both of Sikeston; two daughters, Mrs. Nadine Schuppert, Kevil, Ky., and Mrs. Barbara Wilkins, Paducah, Ky.; also nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Services will be Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Jackson Funeral Chapel, with the Rev. Ira Fruits, pastor Miner Baptist church, officiating.

Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

The state auto license bureau will be closed Wednesday afternoon in respect for services of Mr. Ferrell.

Mosby, St. Louis, and Mrs. Faye P. Seiler, Joplin.

Walter Nowotny Jr., assistant attorney general, will present the case for the complainants at the hearing. The hearing board will hear all evidence in the case and determine whether the law has been violated.

Should the board determine that it has not been violated, the case will be dismissed.

If the board determines the law has been violated, Dr. Urban could be ordered to cease and desist discriminatory activity.

In the event that Dr. Urban is ordered to stop discriminatory activity following the hearing, and if he would refuse to comply, the case could be appealed to circuit court to seek an injunction, Risk explained.
